

Like 4 or 5 things that will make your slides
somewhat better

I'm not roasting anyone in particular.

0. Always use a microphone

A Demonstration of a Bad Slide

- This is some information
 - This information is probably less readable
 - If you're in the back, I'd be surprised if you can read this
 - lol, nerds
- More information
 - If you're reading this, that means you're probably not listening to what I'm saying
 - Which is a bummer because that's why you're here, right?
 - It's really the free sandwiches, I know
- Somehow there's yet another block of information
 - If you've managed to read this far, I'm really curious if you actually read the other bullets
 - But congratulations you get a gold star
 - The gold star is metaphorical

1. Tailor your presentation to your audience

A Demonstration of a Bad Slide

- This is some information
 - This information is probably less readable
 - If you're in the back, I'd be surprised if you can read this
 - lol, nerds
- More information
 - If you're reading this, that means you're probably not listening to what I'm saying
 - Which is a bummer because that's why you're here, right?
 - It's really the free sandwiches, I know
- Somehow there's yet another block of information
 - If you've managed to read this far, I'm really curious if you actually read the other bullets
 - But congratulations you get a gold star
 - The gold star is metaphorical

Check the room
before the
presentation

THIS IS A TEST OF THE FONT SIZE OF THIS PRESENTATION

If you can read this,
you're ok.

If you can't read this, that's fine. Maybe you want to get closer.

If you can read this,
you're ok.

If you can't read this, that's
fine. Maybe you want to get
closer.

If you can read this,
you're ok.

If you can't read this, that's
fine. Maybe you want to get closer.

1. Don't read directly off your slides

2. Never go backwards,
always forwards

A Demonstration of a Bad Slide

- This is some information
 - This information is probably less readable
 - If you're in the back, I'd be surprised if you can read this
 - lol, nerds
- More information
 - If you're reading this, that means you're probably not listening to what I'm saying
 - Which is a bummer because that's why you're here, right?
 - It's really the free sandwiches, I know
- Somehow there's yet another block of information
 - If you've managed to read this far, I'm really curious if you actually read the other bullets
 - But congratulations you get a gold star
 - The gold star is metaphorical

3. Have one idea
per slide

A Demonstration of a Bad Slide

- This is some information
 - This information is probably less readable
 - If you're in the back, I'd be surprised if you can read this
 - lol, nerds
- More information
 - If you're reading this, that means you're probably not listening to what I'm saying
 - Which is a bummer because that's why you're here, right?
 - It's really the free sandwiches, I know
- Somehow there's yet another block of information
 - If you've managed to read this far, I'm really curious if you actually read the other bullets
 - But congratulations you get a gold star
 - The gold star is metaphorical

Words spoken per minute

115

Average Human

248

Tanmay

4. Use your slides
as a backdrop

Cassidy Williams ✓

@cassidoo

Fun fact! Baby elephants are born weighing ~250 pounds, making them the world's biggest babies, right next to the people who complain that CSS isn't really coding 🧠 ✨ 📈

There's nothing in the HR handbook that says you can't snort ibuprofen.

John Handy

In Conclusion

Your slides are for your audience, not
for you.

Thank you for attending.
Goodbye.